CHAPTER ONE

1.1 Introduction

Dilla University Library and Information Service was established in 1996 (1987 E.C.) with limited resources, including minimal materials, facilities, and staff. Since its inception, the library has played a vital role in supporting the university's core academic mission by facilitating teaching, learning, and research activities.

Operating under the Vice President for Academic Affairs, the library has expanded its services over the years to meet the growing needs of students, faculty, and researchers. It currently provides both traditional and technology-driven library services, including a manual system, digital library services, and an institutional repository to enhance access to academic resources.

1.2 Motto

Empowering Knowledge, Enriching Minds, Advancing Excellence.

1.3 Vision

To contribute the academic and scholarly excellence of the university by providing world-class information resources, facilities, and innovative services that will advance teaching, learning, and research.

1.4 Mission

To foster intellectual growth, academic success, and lifelong learning for the students and staff of the university.

To achieve this mission Library provides 7 days per week for 24-hour services for its users.

1.5 Objective

- To select and find information that is useful to the university and to ensure that it is used carefully and appropriately.
- To provide timely information to users.
- To collect books, journals and other information that meet the quality and standard in organizing books and to organize them in a way that is convenient for the user.

2.4.5 Loan Section Activities

The majority of library resources (printed & electronic) is available for loan and can be borrowed by eligible users except those materials that are not normally loaned.

Generally, for those materials that can be loaned, the loan service is of three types:

A. Short Term Loan

B. Long Term Loan and

C. Interlibrary Loan

A. Short Term Loan

This is the service for which materials; especially those reserved are borrowed for spot (i.e. for an hour) reading only. Except a 24 hrs loan in a week for circulation desk library staffs, who are attending formal education at tertiary level based on the arrangement made by campus library team leaders.

Procedures for spot reading:

Issuing (check-out)

- The borrower must deposit her/his valid I.D card until she/he returns the material.
- The user should write the date, I.D. number and the time of return (usually an hour) in the reserve item card. After checking the reserve item card filled by the borrower, give the material to the user.
- Clip the I.D. card and the material card together.
- Put the clipped I.D. card together with the item card in the borrowers file around the circulation desk arranged by author name.

Receiving (check-in)

- Pull out the readers I.D. card & the material card from the borrowers file.
- Check carefully that the material being returned is the same as that is shown in the material card.
- Check for the time in return in the item card.
    - If it is over fine the user based on the law of the library.
- Detach the I.D from the item card.
- Return the I.D. to the borrower.
- Place the item card in to the item.
- Shelf the item to its appropriate place.

B. Long Term Loan

A long-term loan is a loan which will be given at circulation desk for specified date or month(s). This service is a type of loan service that allows students, administrative staff, and academic staff to borrow books for extended periods based on membership cards. It is available during regular hours and is governed by additional relevant regulations

Procedures

Issuing (check-out)

- The borrower should present her/his valid library pockets for each item she/he wants to borrower.
- Check the borrower's library pocket matching with her/his valid I.D. Card.
- Check borrowers personal/fine file
    - If the user has lost a library material & not paid she/he should not be served.
    - The reader is requested to fine if she/he owes the libraries any overdue.
    - If the cases are there she/he should first pay fines.
- Pull out the stack loan card from the item's pocket.
- Check the bibliographic information, especially of the accession/copy number in the item card is coincides with the right item.
- Place the item's card in the borrower's pocket.

- Stamp the date of return on both item card & the date due sheet on the item or if it is stack-spot-reading item you are not required to stamp date due & one pocket can be used for more than one item.
- Give the item to the borrower.
- File the pocket attached with item card in the borrowers file arranged by call number.

Receiving (check-in)

This is the service for which library materials checked-out for a given time period can be returned.

The procedure for returning is: -

- Pull out the card clipped with the borrower's pocket from the borrowers file & from the pocket.
- Check carefully that, especially that of the accession number & copy number of the book being returned is the same as shown in the book card.
- Check the due date stamped.
  - If the date returned is over from the date stamped, the user has to pay the overdue before the pocket is returned.
  - Fill the necessary information on overdue slip in two copies & provide one copy to the user & keep one copy with the pocket in the fines file until she/he came back with pay receipt.
- Return the pocket to the user.
- Return the item on shelves appropriately.

NOTE:

- Prepare overdue list for unreturned items timely.
- Send/post the remainder or overdue notices to borrowers by their address timely and on library notice board. If the clients don't return the material after reminding notices, he might not get any services.

Procedure for reminding notice

- Date due is over is more than 2 days,
- Required to be reserved,
- The library is going to conduct inventory,
- The item is decided to be weeded,
- The item is required for binding,

- The item is requested to be borrowed by another user, &
- Other decisions made by the library.

- A book may be renewed twice unless another user required it.
- The user can renew the material either on the circulation desk, by telephone or E-mail.
- Overdue books can't be renewed unless the fines have been paid.

C. Interlibrary Loan

2.4.6 Circulation section

The circulation section as its name indicates, circulates library materials between readers. Its activity, in general, consists of getting materials needed, issuing to the readers and receiving it, shelving and reserving books.

To access this service, users must follow the procedures outlined below.

- Users must present a valid ID card to the circulation staff when requesting books.
- Users should know the title or author of the book they wish to borrow. If they are unsure of either, they can use the mini-catalogue provided by the circulation section, which lists the reserved books available at the circulation desk.
- When books are requested to be serviced by a specific time, the circulation staff should first search the catalog to identify the required books, which will make their work more efficient and faster.

- The circulation staff will remove the book card from the book and keep it with the user's ID card before handing the book to the user.
- After reading, users can retrieve their ID card once the borrowed material is returned.
- Books may be borrowed for one hour and can be renewed every hour, provided there are no other users waiting
- If a borrower returns a book after the due date, their ID card will be retained, and they will be charged according to the library's regulations.

C. Penalties related to loan services

When users borrow and read for an hour in the library:

- A user who spends 20 to 30 minutes will be banned from using the library for one day.
- A user who spends between 30 minutes and 1 hour will be banned from using the library for four days.
- A user who spends more than one hour in the library will be banned from the library for one week.
- If a user does not pay the fine, their pocket (membership card) will not be refunded.
- The user must return the book borrowed for reading in the library 15 (fifteen) minutes before the library closes.
- A user who does not return a packet will not be given a clearance.
- If the user loses the borrowed book and brings back an identical copy of the book, they will be charged Birr 30.00 for technical work.
- The offender will be prohibited from accessing any library services until they have completed their sentence.
- If the user is more than one month (30 days) past the due date for returning the borrowed book, it will be considered lost and the book will be charged three times the price.

2.4.7 Check point (Library Attendant)

This is the place where library users are checked during: -

  - Entrance whether they are eligible user or not, &
  - The materials checked-out from the library are according to the law or not.

- There are always one guards at the checkpoint.

- Those who assigned to the checkpoint are required to check the I.D. cards of all incoming users to identify, whether they are eligible or not.
- They should also examine physically all materials, briefcases, bags, etc carried by & body of the outgoing user by circulation library assistant & the library staff by security guard.
- For a material believed to be the property of DU Libraries and date due over or not implied due date should not be released. It would be referred to the library circulation shift coordinator. or campus branch library team leader (before this process she/ he should take note of the necessary information about the item & the person under check - i.e. call number, accession number, name of the user, ID number, etc.)
- When such cases are identified the responsible staff should check the item against the necessary document & the appropriate measure should be taken.

NB: - check point library assistant must report such cases in full formally.

2.4.8 Temporary ID Card

This service is provided, if the user is:

- External member to the library system.
- Missed her/his ID card & till replaced.

Note: This temporary ID card is only for library access

2.4.9 Shelving Section

Shelving is the process of returning materials to their proper place on the shelf.

Procedure:

- All items checked in should be shelved daily,
    - 5 minutes before the closing of working hours for stack.
    - 5 minutes before shift exchange.
- As soon as possible the responsible library assistant should go around & collect the materials that are returned by readers from the receiving area.
- Arrange the books in order by
    - Call number of items, &
    - Alphabetically by author.

- Make sure that the call number, the accession number & copy number on the item card matches exactly with the item pocket.
- Return each item to its proper place on the shelf.
- For, miss shelved items are a lost item, accuracy is more important during shelving.
- The responsible assistants should take shelf reading always.

2.4.10 Clearance

All users during clearance are required to return their library pockets to the corresponding library they received their pockets.

Procedure

- During clearance check all the necessary information that is found on the pocket if it fits exactly with the information on the membership card (specially check strictly the pocket accession number of the pocket).
- Any information on the pocket that was deleted, overwritten, erased, unread or that creates vagueness is invalid.
- If there are missed or invalid pocket(s) the user is required to confirm whether her/his pocket is/are not in use in other branch libraries of DU.
- A user who is in charge of violating the rules & regulation of the library system must not be cleared by any part of the library system (including the book store) unless & otherwise she/he could come-up with the appropriate official document that has reference number, date, sign & seal of the legally authorized & mandated body of DU. The official document should incorporate what measure(s) has been taken upon the user who violated the library systems rules & regulations.
- Clearance signage for those applicants who lost their ID card at any time should come to their host branch library after clear remark of each system of DU Libraries.

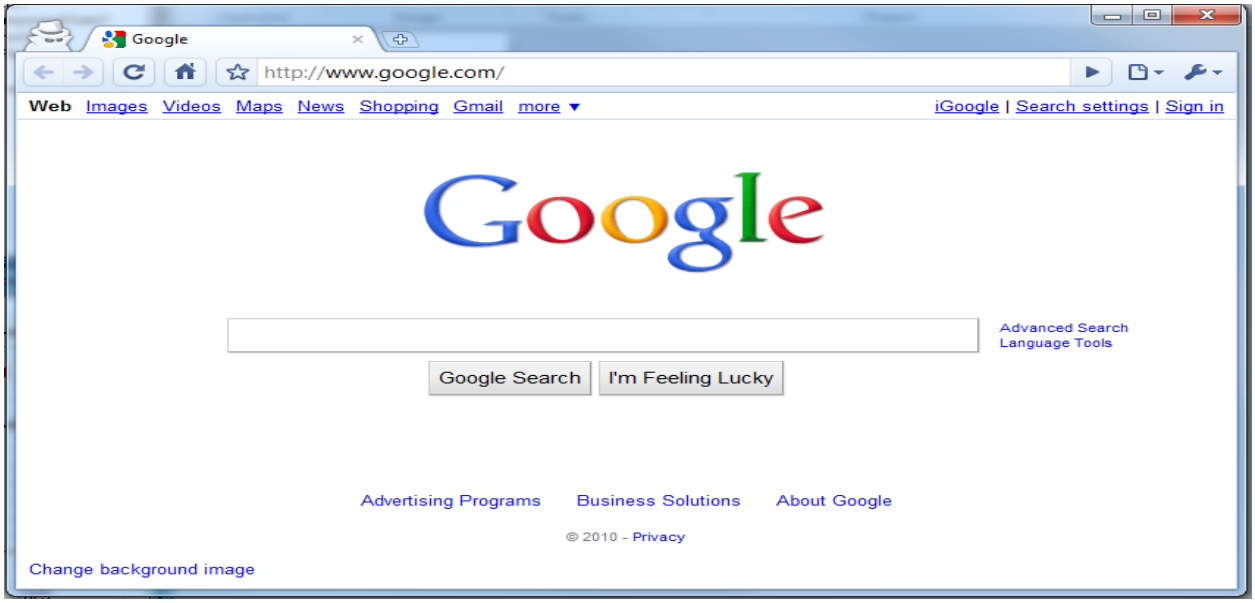
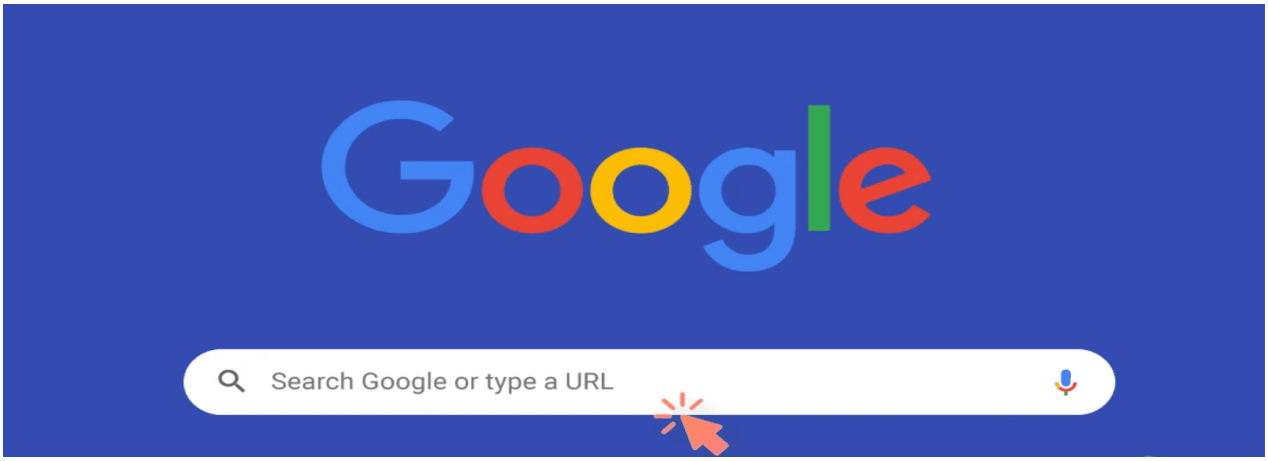
1) Open a web browser.



2) Enter the Digital library URL: [http://10.221.6.254:8080/digitals/]



II. User Interface Overview

- Home Screen Layout

III. Menu and Navigation Bars in a Digital Library

The menu and navigation bars in a digital library are critical tools for enhancing the user experience, making it easy to access various features, tools, and resources within the library system. Here's an overview of what end users can typically expect and how to make the most of them:

- Main Navigation Bar

The main navigation bar is the primary tool to access different sections of the digital library. Positioned at the top of the webpage or along the side, it often includes links to:

Home Icon:

- Function: Takes users to the main or landing page of the digital library. It usually provides an overview of featured collections, recent additions, or updates.

Search Icon:

- Function: Opens a search bar or search page where users can enter keywords, titles, authors, or other criteria to find specific books, articles, or resources within the library.

Colleges Icon:

- Function: This icon could lead to a section listing affiliated colleges. Users might access resources specific to these colleges or explore collections related to academic institutions.

Browse Icon:

- Function: Allows users to explore the library's content by categories or subjects. It might offer a structured view of different collections, genres, or topics, facilitating easy discovery of resources.

My Account Icon:

- Function: Provides access to the user's personal account details. Users can view and manage their borrowing history, saved items, preferences, and other account-related settings.

Discover Icon:

- Function: Highlights new or recommended resources. It often features curated collections, popular reads, or personalized suggestions based on the user's interests or previous activity.

Searching for Resources

This is the process of finding information, documents, or other materials relevant to your needs. It involves using various tools and methods to locate resources efficiently.

- Basic Search:

This is the most straightforward method of searching. You enter keywords or phrases into a search bar and receive results that match or are closely related to those terms. Basic search is typically used when you have a general idea of what you're looking for.

- Advanced Search Options:

These options allow for more precise and refined searches. Advanced search typically involves using additional parameters such as date ranges, specific file types, or particular fields (e.g., title, author, subject). It helps narrow down results to find exactly what you need.

- Filtering and Sorting Results:

Filtering: This involves applying criteria to the search results to narrow down the list. Filters might include categories like publication date, author, relevance, or type of resource (e.g., books, articles, videos).

- Sorting: This involves arranging the search results in a particular order, such as by date, relevance, or alphabetical order. Sorting helps to prioritize the most useful or relevant results.

- Using Search Operators:

Search operators are special characters or commands used to refine searches. Common operators include:

  - Quotation Marks (""): Search for exact phrases (e.g., "climate change").
  - Plus, Sign (+): Include words that must be present (e.g., "sustainable + energy").
  - Minus Sign (-): Exclude words that are not relevant (e.g., "apple -fruit").
  - Asterisk (): Use as a wildcard to represent any word or part of a word (e.g., "tech").
  - OR: Search for either of the terms (e.g., "technology OR innovation").

- Downloading Resources

Here are the steps for downloading materials from a digital library:

1. Navigate to Your College's Digital Library:
   - Go to your college's digital library website or platform.
2. Select Your College:
   - If required, choose your college from a list or dropdown menu.
3. Click on Your Department:
   - Navigate to the section for your department or area of study.

4. Find and Click on the Material:

- Browse or search for the specific material (book, article, etc.) you need and click on it.

5. View/Open the Material:

- The material will open in the online reader or viewer within your browser.

Download the Material

- Look for a download option or button if you wish to save the material to your device. Note that not all materials may be available for download; some may only be viewable online.

B. Institutional Repository

The Institutional Repository serves as a platform for storing, managing, and disseminating the university's research outputs, such as theses, dissertations, and academic publications.

NOTE: All rules and regulations listed in section A of the Digital Library apply to this Institutional Repository.

CHAPTER FOUR

4.1 OTHER CONCERNS

There are no exceptions to these manual and regulations. However, the Library and information service, in consultation with the University's Academic Affairs, will oversee their implementation as needed.

4.2 Book Store

The Library is a department where various textbooks and continuing education modules are loaned to students on a semester basis. This department provides services not only to students but also to teachers. The following rules apply to both books issued for loan and books borrowed from the Library.

- ✓ A book store librarian sorts books by subject.
- ✓ Textbooks may be borrowed for a semester or a year, as needed.
- ✓ The book store user/student and staff/verifies the authenticity of the borrowed books when they return them.
- ✓ When a student, academic, or administrative employee leaves for the semester or leaves for education purpose, the book store librarian clerk certifies that he or she is free from debt and affixes his or her signature and the book store seal.
- ✓ Users can only borrow books from the book store if they have a valid university ID.
- ✓ If a user loses a borrowed textbook, he/she will be charged five times the price of the book.

4.3 Library usage hours

- ✓ Monday to Sunday, excluding holidays (3:00 AM to 12:00 PM, remaining hours are reserved for cleaning and bookkeeping).

4.4 Amendment of the law and its implementation period

- ✓ This manual shall come into effect only after it is approved by the top management.
- ✓ The library reserves the right to amend any of the bylaws.
- ✓ When a law is amended, it will be posted on the notice board, so users should read and implement it.

Written laws, regulations, and penalties will be implemented appropriately.
